

ABOUT

I am a junior golfer and high school student from Santa Fe, Argentina, aiming to enroll in an American college and compete on a collegiate team beginning in Fall 2027. I train every day with this goal in mind and have the discipline and drive to keep improving my game, lowering my scores, and building consistency.

One of my main strengths is my performance off the tee, particularly my distance. As a person, I am calm, responsible, and able to stay composed under pressure. I believe I can contribute to a college golf team through my daily commitment, positive attitude, and strong drive to work hard and continue improving in a way that supports team success.
