

ABOUT

I am a dedicated junior golfer from Argentina with the goal of competing at the highest level of collegiate golf while continuing to grow both academically and athletically. I am seeking a program that will challenge me, help me develop my game, and provide an environment where I can contribute to a successful and competitive team.

My strengths on the course include consistency, a reliable short game, and strong iron play. Off the course, I am disciplined, coachable, competitive, and a supportive teammate who values hard work and collaboration. I am committed to continuous improvement and believe I can make a positive impact on a college golf program through my work ethic, positive attitude, and dedication to helping the team achieve its goals.
